Budget Slash Is Proposed for U. S. Agencies

Washington, March 14 (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today recommended a 10 per cent slash in the seven billion dollar budget of more than a score of federal agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1.

It turned thumbs down on all new proposals, cut by one-third the funds budgeted for travel, communications, printing and binding; ordered a halt to accumulation of annual leave by government workers, and slapped a ceiling of 25,000 on the number of new public low rent housing units that may be started next year.

It took this action as it sent to the House for debate next week a $6,272,138,348 bill financing the independent offices for the next fiscal year. All of them, including the Atomic Energy Commission and the Veterans' Administration, felt the sting of the committee's economy slash.

The actual cut was $706,548,695 from the President's budget requests.

Rep. Thomas (D-Tex.), chairman of a subcommittee that drafted the bill after lengthy hearings, said the reduction, if followed through on other budget measures, would "obviate the need for deficit spending or more taxes."

Thomas claimed that the ban against accumulation of annual leave alone would save 12 million dollars.

He claimed another saving of $60 million would result from the committee's order to hold to 25,000 the number of housing unit starts in the coming year. The President had asked for 7,000, an increase of 25,000 over this year.

The bill's total includes 2,753,601,370 in items the committee said are "not susceptible to reduction."

These include $2,432,472,000 in insurance and pension payments and other fixed veterans' administration costs; $181,129,537 for stockpiling critical defense materials and $240,000,000 to speed up construction of 15 more high-speed cargo ships by the maritime administration.

Actually, the committee claimed, the cuts in items susceptible to trimming amounted to nearly 33 per cent, the biggest cut on a major money bill in recent years.

The Georgia senator hopes to pick up some convention delegates in the prairie and Western states. He can already count on most of the Southern delegates, according to most surveys.

Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.), who informally endorsed Russell last weekend, told a reporter today that he expects Russell to win the

Export Dwindle Behind Curtain Now a Trickle

Washington, March 14 (AP) — U. S. exports behind the Iron Curtain have dwindled to a thin trickle but the drop in Communist sales to this country hasn't been as drastic.

The Commerce Department said official U. S. exports to Red Europe last year totaled $2,852,000 compared to $26,742,000 in 1930.

The 10 Red countries, including Russia sold to this nation in 1931 merchandise worth $61,582,000 compared to $80,584,000 in 1930.

United States exports to Russia alone in 1931 totaled only $55,000, alone in 1931 totaled only $55,000, charity packages sent by individuals to individuals. This compared to $75,000 in 1930 and 340 million dollars in 1947.

Russian exports to the U. S. in 1931 totaled $27,398,000 compared to $38,296,000 the year before and 108 million in 1947.

Red China and Manchuria got only one $500 shipment of books from this country in 1931 but sold $46,487,000 in goods.

The Russian and Red China imports consisted mostly of furs. Such purchases were barred effective Jan. 5 of this year.

The department reported the U. S. sold the 17 Marshall Plan Countries $3,800,000,000 in goods in 1931 and imports from those countries totaled $1,900,000,000.

Korean Truce Talks Strike a Dismal New Low

Panmunjom, Korea, March 13 (UP) — Armistice talks between United Nations and Communist negotiators hit a "dismal new low" today.

"We touched, I think, a dizzy new height in Communist intransigence and ill-will and a dismal new low in progress," U. N. Col. Andrew J. Kinney reported after a fruitless meeting of more than four hours on means of supervising a truce.

There was no progress in a 23-minute debate on exchanging prisoners of war.

Rear Admiral Ruthven E. Libby asked the Reds to clarify their previous proposal to continue discussions on exchanging prisoners on the basis of lists already drawn up. The Allies have claimed the Communists' list is incomplete.

After a 15-second silence, Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho asked if Libby had anything to say. Libby again requested clarification.

When it was not forthcoming, Libby said:

"It is apparent that we have reached a situation in the sub-delegation meetings where progress will at best be extremely slow. If such is the case, further clarification and exploration is essential to progress."

Libby then suggested that the staff officers for each side again take over the prisoner discussions with a view to seeking and recommending to us means by which progress can be made toward a solution."

Lee said he will consider Libby's suggestion.

The prisoner of war debate is snarled on the Communists' demand for forcible repatriation of prisoners held by the Allies. The U. N. insists that prisoners have the right to refuse repatriation.

Cold-Weary Areas Get Another Blast

By The Associated Press
The winter-weary Midwest and Rocky Mountain regions got another blast of wintry weather today.

Fresh falls of snow hit wide areas in the western region and a new blast of cold from Canada spread over snowcovered sections of the Midwest. The chilly air extended over much of the eastern half of the nation. But the north central and plains states got the coldest weather, with temperatures near zero in some parts of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Montana.

Mild weather continued in southern and central Florida. Yesterday's 86 in Miami was the hottest March 13 in 40 years. It was 87 in Larado, Tex.

Russian 'No' Is Ready for Austrian Peace

Washington, March 14 (AP) — Russia is believed ready to fire back a quick emphatic "no" to a new Big Three proposal for a streamlined Austrian peace treaty.

Officials say the Russian turn-down, if and when it comes, will virtually kill the last Western hope that a four-power peace treaty for Austria is possible and will mean continued Russian and Western occupation of Austria until some other way is found to break the present stalemate.

In formal notes made public yesterday, the United States, Britain, and France appealed to Moscow to agree to a 1,000-word, eight article pact which would fully restore Austrian rule over its territory.

At the same time, the United States denounced Russia for stalling on a peace pact and failing to keep a 1943 promise to join the West in insuring Austrian independence after the war.

The new draft treaty was designed to replace a much longer 60 article pact that bogged down in argument after five years of talk.

Seven of the article in the new pact were lifted from the original. They had been agreed to by Russia's representative. The eighth, however, came as a surprise.

It calls on all four countries to give up all Austrian property claimed as former Nazi assets or as war booty.

This would hit the Russians hard. Russia now holds oil, shipping and industrial properties in Austria worth several hundred million dollars, and is believed to be making

The presentation of these awards will be handled through the high school. The Chamber of Commerce wished to express its thanks to the students who participated in the contest and to the high school faculty for splendid cooperation.

In addition to the work that was done on the new Hope brochure the committee studied a proposed plan for highway billboard signs and have asked the sign companies to provide bids for construction and building. It is hoped that the signs may be erected in the very near future.

Texas, U. S. Blamed for Boll Worm

New Orleans, March 14 (AP) — W. E. Anderson, Louisiana commissioner of agriculture, says the federal government and the state of Texas have fallen down on the job of controlling spread of the pink boll worm.

He charged here yesterday that Texas agricultural officials yielded to political pressure in relaxing color quarantine restrictions last year.

But John C. White, Texas Commissioner of agriculture, denied the charge.

"When the time came for the cotton talks to be played under last year there were still 400,000 bales of cotton in the fields of Texas. I don't believe there is a man here who would have refused to grant additional time under those conditions," White said.

The exchange came at a meeting of industry representatives and enforcement officials from 11 states.

Parcel Post Going Overseas Reduced

Due to the fact that the volume of air parcel post going to members of the armed forces overseas is exceeding the available aircraft space, it has been necessary to reduce the size and weight of these air mail parcels, effective March 15, 1932.

The new limits will apply to all air parcels addressed to APO's in care of the postmasters at New York, San Francisco, Seattle and New Orleans, and to Navy and Marine Corps units, including ships, addressed in care of the fleet post offices at New York and San Francisco.

The new limits will be 2 pounds in weight, and the size is to be not larger than 30 inches in length and girth combined. Surface parcels (not air mail) will continue to be accepted at the old limits of 70 pounds in weight and 100 inches in length and girth combined.

Snyder to Start Change Shortly After April 1

Washington, March 14 (AP) — Secretary of Treasury Snyder said today New York and Chicago have been chosen as "pilot districts" for the reorganization of the Internal Revenue Service. The steps will be taken shortly after April 1.

The administration won authority for its proposed top-to-bottom shake-up of the tax collecting service when the Senate approved the reorganization plan late yesterday by a 53 to 37 vote.

It was President Truman's biggest triumph of the 1932 congressional session.

Snyder told a news conference the changes will be held up briefly so that there will be no interruption of the filling and collection of this year's income tax returns, due tomorrow, and (2) the mailing of 30 million tax refund checks, now in progress.

While midnight tomorrow, March 15, is the statutory deadline for income tax returns, taxpayers will have until midnight Monday to file because Saturday is not a business day for the federal government.

Revenue Commissioner John Dunlap, who met reporters with Snyder, said he has sent a message to all revenue employees clarifying:

"This is the biggest opportunity ever handed to a group of government employees to join together in forging a truly revitalized agency of government designed to protect the best interests of both the taxpayer and the government."

The reorganization plan abolishes the job of the present 64 district appointed collectors of internal revenue across the country.

It establishes instead a system of 21 district commissioners and 64 deputy district commissioners where collectors' offices are located. All these officials, and other top-level officials at Washington headquarters — except for revenue commissioner — will be placed under civil service.

Dunlap said the Civil Service Commission is now establishing "the highest standards" for the jobs. Most of the present collectors are expected to leave the service in the reorganization, though some may be retained.

taking Civil Service examination Snyder said the transfer to complete Civil Service status will be completed by Dec. 1. After intricate organization changes made in New York and Chicago the plan will be spread across country, district by district.

Snyder said there would be an announcement of names of the district commissioners before April 1.

Asked if the present collectors were resigning en masse, Snyder said "Congress took care of resignations yesterday."

Snyder added that the collectors' areas are being changed in the reorganization plan.

Dunlap said many tax units operate independently and that their concentration in a single district committee office would bring economy and better service to taxpayers.

State Police Want of Traffic Check

Arkansas State Police are running traffic checks through the district in the near future. The day warned all drivers to correct minor defects in their cars before the new law goes into effect.

The warning will be given by Milton Meador, state police district.

Tree signs on the coast in California are being taken down because they were not properly maintained.

When the beer wholesalers of Arkansas held their annual meeting in Little Rock Wednesday George Callahan, director of the state's Alcohol Control Board told them, according to a news report in yesterday's Arkansas Democrat: "If the sale of liquor continues to decline as it has in the past few months, and the sale of beer continues to increase, we may have to look to the beer industry for support of the ABC in the future."

And the head of the liquor traffic policing agency gave this warning: "The sale of liquor over open bars under the guise of private clubs and the temptation to sell beer for distribution to the dry counties is a gun pointed to the very heart of your public relations."

These are familiar cries — declining sales within the legal framework, and reports of poaching on the premises of the "dry" counties. The only newsworthy statement was Mr. Callahan's reference to taxes, and there, unfortunately, he confined his remarks to what concerned the beer men only.

What we have here is just another chapter in Arkansas' hazardous treatment of the liquor problem, its absurd attempt to ignore the potential tax revenue on that luxury commodity while threatening constantly higher levies against food and clothing and land.

Thirteen of the most populous and wealthy states of America operate state-wide liquor dispensaries, retaining both taxes and profits for the commonwealth, and at the same time affording revenue to police the private sale of beer.

Arkansas can pick up perhaps 10 million dollars a year additional revenue from such a system for the use of its schools and charities.

But the idea leaves the professional prohibitionists cold, and it would be fought to the last ditch by the hard-liquor interests. So while these two minorities block the tax road we will be confronted by a new attempt to raise the 2 per cent sales tax.

That's my guess.

And the sales tax increase will be defeated. Which is a certainty. The people of a great commonwealth aren't being honest when they permit combinations of opinionated "moralists" and these financially interested in the traffic to force citizens into the position of ignoring the tax on liquor while debating a higher tax on our resources and necessities.

You read in yesterday's Star an Associated Press dispatch quoting a certain part of Samuel Lubell's article, "What You Don't Know About Truman," in the current issue of Saturday Evening Post (March 13). The excerpt doesn't do justice to the article.

I think Lubell's word picture of Mr. Truman is the finest analysis ever written in the office-holding-time of any President. Although hostile to the Truman administration myself I found the article fair and not unkindly. It is the sort of thing Mr. Truman is certain to cut out and place in his scrap-book.

For it is an analysis not only of the President but of the American people. Lubell writes that Mr. Truman has been consistent his whole political life, as a senator and as President — consistent in choosing the middle of the road, consistent in avoiding decision, consistent in using one compromise after another to "buy time."

Lubell's concluding paragraph is almost his only editorial comment. He says:

"This is, it seems to me, the year for decision, unless by side-stepping a decision the American people want to run the risk of allowing the human race to enter an era of universal twilight."

Federal Jury Takes Over in Finnegan Trial

St. Louis, March 14 (AP) — A Federal Court jury takes over today in the trial of James P. Finnegan, former internal revenue collector and personal friend of President Truman.

U. S. District Judge Ruben M. Hulen will instruct the 11 men and women before they retire to decide on two bribery and three conspiracy charges against Finnegan.

Maximum penalty on each bribery count is three years in prison and fine three times the amount of the bribe plus permanent disqualification from holding federal office.

The highest possible penalty under each of the other counts is $10,000 fine and two years imprisonment.

In his closing argument yesterday, Thomas M. DeWolfe, special assistant U. S. attorney general, described Finnegan's conduct in office as vicious. He said Finnegan stole the high prestige of his office.

"When he was supposed to be collecting for the government, he actually was collecting for James P. Finnegan," DeWolfe declared.

In rebuttal, Harry C. Gantton, chief defense counsel, told the jury that the "overwhelming weight of the evidence" shows Finnegan to be innocent.

He argued that money which the government claims Finnegan took either as bribes or as illegal fees represented legal compensation to which Finnegan was fully entitled.

Finnegan is charged with accepting two $500 bribes from the now defunct St. Louis-Kellogg Company, which had a delinquent tax case pending in his office.

He also is charged with accepting $10,000 in furniture from the same company for representing it in connection with a Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan application, with receiving $5,000 from the American Lithofold Corp. for securing the St. Louis printing firm an RVC loan, and with taking $5,000 from the Warwick Hotel Corp. in connection with a damage claim against the Coast Guard.

Little Rock, March 14 (AP) — Curatorial of State Highway Department work orders on jobs already contracted for or ready for contracting may be necessary because of a shortage of resident engineers.

He said that the department is now looking for about 100 more for residential engineers than Arkansas has.

Crete Romeo Gets An Annulment

Athens, Greece, March 14 (AP) — A court annulment has brought to a legal end the marriage of Crete's impetuous modern-day Romeo, Coste Kephalyannis, to his Juliet.

The end of the match, which once threatened to revive clan warfare on the island, was peaceful. Kephalyannis did not appear in court. The bride, Tassoula Petragorogi, was represented by her father, a parliament member.

Kephalyannis abducted sultry-eyed Tassoula in August, 1950, and fled with her to a mountain hide-out. She was later sent to prison for bearing arms at the time he captured her. She stuck by him, and they were reunited. The romance cooled earlier this year, however.

Accused of Trying to Smear Actress

Los Angeles, March 14 (AP) — Produce dealer Nick Giannacis and his attorney, Clatus Hanifin, were accused yesterday of "using the court to smear the chastity and reputation of actress Madge Meredith."

Superior Judge Thomas J. Cunningham criticized the two in denying a motion of Miss Meredith's former business manager for a new trial after Miss Meredith recently was awarded a house she bought and which she said Giannacis took from her by trickery.

Judge Cunningham ruled Miss Meredith's relationship with her manager had been of a business nature only. Giannacis testified they were lovers, which Miss Meredith denied vehemently.

Judge Cunningham ruled Miss Meredith's relationship with her manager had been of a business nature only. Giannacis testified they were lovers, which Miss Meredith denied vehemently.

Crete Romeo Gets An Annulment

Athens, Greece, March 14 (AP) — A court annulment has brought to a legal end the marriage of Crete's impetuous modern-day Romeo, Coste Kephalyannis, to his Juliet.

The end of the match, which once threatened to revive clan warfare on the island, was peaceful. Kephalyannis did not appear in court. The bride, Tassoula Petragorogi, was represented by her father, a parliament member.

Kephalyannis abducted sultry-eyed Tassoula in August, 1950, and fled with her to a mountain hide-out. She was later sent to prison for bearing arms at the time he captured her. She stuck by him, and they were reunited. The romance cooled earlier this year, however.

About $500 million annually from their operations.

Under a 1949 Western agreement with Russia, Moscow was to be allowed to keep some Austrian oil and shipping properties and to get 150 million dollars in exchange for numerous Austrian factories. It is now holding.

American officials justified the new article, however, by emphasizing the 1949 agreement made on condition that Russia agree to the entire peace pact, which it has failed to do.

Russia could be expected to reject the treaty on other grounds, too. Another article provides for evacuation of all occupation forces within 60 days after the treaty goes into effect.

Singapore Now Hub of 2-Way Smuggling

Singapore, March 14 (AP)—The U. N. blockade of Red China and boom conditions in Singapore have transformed this great trading center into a teeming hub of two-way smuggling.

Bigtime operators, who long have used loopholes in this great port to smuggle in opium for rich Chinese addicts, now use the same loopholes to send out strategic war materials to Communist countries.

With Red China as their ultimate destination, quantities of tin, rubber, tires, auto parts, tinplate, carbon black and other war necessities are flowing out of the colony despite the official ban.

The British authorities admit cargoes are getting past the customs and port control, but plead senior customs officials cannot be everywhere at once and have to take the word of officers in passing outboard cargoes.

Said a customs spokesman: "Contraband, opium, gold, liquor and tobacco coming in is small compared to the volume of prohibited goods going out."

Strategic materials are the money-making exports of smugglers, he declared, and named Red China and Indochina as the main "importing countries."

When Britain placed a ban on strategic war material exports to Communist China, illicit export-ers here immediately looked for alternative channels to get supplies needed by the Communists out of the colony.

One method was to obtain export declarations for scrap material and then ship out brand new material heavily packed. With official papers, these cargoes got past trusting customs men for months.

The ruse came to an end only when a large cargo of brand new tinplate wrapped in sacking burst open aboard a Hong Kong-bound vessel. The export declaration had stipulated it was tin cuttings.

There followed a period of apparent calm. Three months later 20 customs officers, acting on information, boarded the steamship, Sawiken, bound for Red China. They went to work with screwdrivers, and out of bedsteads with hollow sides, canvas coats with hollow supports and glazed tabletops with false undersides, poured thousands of pieces of auto parts and tools. They included spark plugs, bearings, gaskets, contact-breakers, spanners, files, aerial and ordinary film and printing paper.

But Singapore's 66 mile vulnerable coastline and corruption among some customs men are two factors contributing to the trade which flourishes despite periodic crackdowns.

Ponder Quads Are Two Months Old

Nashville, March 14 (AP)—Two months ago today the towns of Nashville and Murfreesboro, Ark., were in an uproar.

It started when a shaky father walked into a Nashville hospital and said: "I've got four" babies—three boys and a girl—and they're all mine."

Thus the Ponder quadruplets became four of Southwest Arkansas' most popular residents. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ponder appeared on television shows. The Murfreesboro Lions Club started a fund to build the family a new home, and Papa Ponder got a job with the Arkansas Highway Department.

Hospital attendants say all four babies are gaining weight and doing fine. But they're celebrating their birthday quietly—still in their incubators.

McMath Men Back Cost of Hearing

Little Rock, March 14 (AP)—Four men, all friendly toward the administration of Gov. McMath, have registered as bondsmen with the Arkansas Supreme Court to underwrite the cost of a hearing on the suit to prevent a popular vote on the controversial new purchasing act.

John H. Greenlee, Little Rock insurance man; R. A. Young Jr., Ft. Smith equipment dealer; Jack Stephens, Little Rock investment broker; and T. L. Fisher, Malvern businessman, yesterday registered with the high court.

The Supreme Court had directed the tax payers who filed suit attacking validity of petitions to put the new law (Act 242 of 1951) on the ballot to "execute bond for cost" of the hearings.

Hearings will begin Monday before Wayne Upton, Little Rock attorney appointed by the Supreme Court as its commissioner.

Car Thief Asks Forgiveness

Conway, March 14 (AP)—A man who says he stole a car here in 1945 has asked his victim to forgive him via long distance telephone.

Mrs. Frank E. Robins, widow of the publisher of the Conway Log Cabin Democrat, said she received a telephone call Wednesday from a man in Wichita, Kan., who told her he stole the car. She said he asked forgiveness and offered compensation for any inconvenience caused Mrs. Robins or her late husband.

The car was stolen in November, 1945, and found near Skintook, Okla., in February, 1946. Mrs. Robins said she did not plan any criminal action against the man.

DOROTHY DIX

A Mother-In-Law Speaks

Dear Miss Dix: Accept my five cents worth on this perennial mother-in-law problem taken from the book of life. I am a mother and a mother-in-law to six men and women, and I think I can truly say I am welcomed in each of their respective homes. I was widowed at 33, and am now past 75. After the last child was married and I sold the family home and bought a simple two-room cottage, new and modern, near the church and shopping center, I kept my books, my car, my sewing machine and have a nice little yard to cultivate.

I go among my children in times of joy and of stress, always glad to help out when another understanding woman is a godsend in the house. When the occasion passes, I am glad to go back to the quiet and routine of my own home, and I do not feel to know that they, too, are happy to be all alone by themselves. I've resolved not to carry tales or offer advice unless it is asked for. I like to take over the care of the house and the children and let the girls have an evening or a few days off with their husbands. I do not consider they are making a baby-sitter of me but rather that they are according me a place as a loved member of the family.

By keeping up a life of my own, independent of the children, they do not feel I am a weight about their necks, depending on them for life and entertainment. I keep up with my old friends, cultivate my new neighbors, read, keep a nice yard and go to a good show occasionally. The children know I am never home just chewing my nails and feeling sorry for myself. My means are limited and I am constantly receiving gifts I can use or such money as they can give.

The press and radio do a disservice to young folks, playing up the predatory mother-in-law. They go into marriage with their guards up, ready to take offense where none is intended. Truly there are many women who are glad to hand over their children to good partners and do everything they can to promote the stability and happiness of marriage. MRS. H. K.

Answer: The whole secret of your success, Mrs. H. K., is that you have grown—and are growing—emotionally and intellectually with each birthday. May God send you many more. You have accepted each responsibility as it came—wife, mother, mother-in-law, grandmother—and discharged it in a fine, capable, womanly fashion.

A Splendid Example
Few women achieve the complete fulfillment you have. What a happy world it would be if your example were emulated by more of them. If, instead of whining for the pleasures of a lost youth, they were content to enjoy the richness of the present! Surrounded, as you are, by the things of the spirit—your church, your books, and the material things—a car, a machine, a yard—that help to make a full life, you have learned to make your own pleasures and pastimes without being dependent on the constant attentions of your children.

Of course you have been blessed by God with the fundamentals that make your pleasant life possible. You have health, and a sufficiently good financial background to make you independent. But, of course, these things would avail nothing if you didn't also possess common sense, tolerance, good humor and faith.

Perhaps too much stress is placed on the dominating, trouble-making mother-in-law, but her number, though small in comparison with the mothers who do try to do a good job as in-laws, is still large enough to warrant frequent warnings. It is true, and encouraging, however, that each generation sees a smaller percentage of mothers who balk at the thought of acquiring daughters or sons-in-law. The modern woman is becoming more self-sufficient, more alive to the many opportunities around for activity.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm in love with a boy I've known for seven years. Recently he married another girl and I can't forget him. I'm 18, he's 21. Do you think I'll ever get him back?

SHORTY
Answer: I realize how heart-breaking you are, and how tragic life is at the moment, but you can never make things better by yearning over a man who belongs to someone else. It seems impossible to know, but you must stop thinking of him all the time, and look around for another beau. Whatever you do, don't make any attempt to continue seeing this boy. He's out of your life now, and you will be committing a great wrong if you try to break up his marriage. Even if he should want to go out with you, prove yourself the stronger and refuse.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm 14 years old and very much in love with a boy 16. We are planning to be married in two or three years. About a week ago, I went to the place where Eddie works and his boss told me he had taken another girl, named Ada out. When I asked Eddie about it, he admitted he had taken her out and kissed her. The girl is engaged, too, so I don't see why she couldn't leave my boy friend alone.

SALLY TRENE
Answer: First of all, you're too young to be so seriously involved with Eddie or any other boy. Secondly, if he has so little will power that he's going to be easy prey for every girl who looks at him, he's not what you want. Always remember, a man who can't be trusted as a friend or a fiancé will never be a faithful husband. You certainly don't want to go through life worrying about the Adas of this world, so let Eddie know that you're no longer interested in him.

Garment Plant Strike Ends

Paragould, March 14 (AP)—A 22-day strike against a garment factory here has ended.

Members of the striking AFL Garment Workers Union returned to their jobs at the Ely & Walker Shirt Factory, company officials announced yesterday. The strike started as a bit-down strike in the factory's sewing department Feb. 20. Five days later, the plant suspended production.

Forty-three sewing department employees started the strike to protest the piece rates paid for handling rayon fabrics.

The song "Work for the Night is Coming" was sung. The hostess of the month, Mrs. Anderson, led the devotion and prayer. Following the roll call minutes were read and approved and new business of the summer activities was discussed.

Mrs. Joe Martin gave a report on poultry and Mrs. Ernest Hackler reported on home management.

A main topic of discussion was the yearly scrap book over which Mrs. D. C. Hutchinson and Mrs. Paris Anderson will preside. Each member contributed interesting data and ideas for the book.

Mrs. McMurrey received the door prize and Mrs. Hackler received a gift from her secret pal.

Refreshments were served to twelve members and two guests. Mrs. Autry Foster and Mrs. Elmore Nickols. Pictures were taken of the entire group.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Andrew Weatherford and all members are urged to attend and bring a guest. Meeting is scheduled for 1:30 promptly.

Center Point
Ironing a shirt and a simpler way of making a bed were the subjects of the Center Point Home Demonstration Club meeting Friday afternoon, March 6.

The club met in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Griffin. With Mrs. Marion Hubbard president, in charge the club repeated the American Creed and Our Collect. After the song, "Work for the Night is Coming" the hostess gave the devotion and prayer was led by Mrs. Earlie Williams.

The roll call was answered by ways to make housekeeping easier. During the short business meeting the club voted to make and sell gifts for Mother's Day.

Mrs. Marion Hubbard, Home Management Leader, gave the demonstration on how to iron a shirt in 4 1/2 minutes and a simpler way to make a bed.

The hostess served refreshments to four members, one new member, Mrs. Ross Bright, and two visitors, Mrs. Chock Talbot and Mrs. Milton Mosler, and Mrs. Lorraine Blackwood, Home Demonstration Agent.

SW Texas Is Unbeaten in NAIB Tourney

Kansas City, March 14 (AP) — There'll be a new champion in the 14th National Intercollegiate Amateur basketball tournament for sure and the winner will have beaten the best field ever assembled for the six-day small college meet.

The Portland (Ore.) University Pilots took care of the new champion angle by outscoring, then humiliating three-time champion Hamline University of St. Paul, Minn., 75-57 in the quarterfinals to the delight of 8,000 fans last night.

The Pilots, who came to the tournament with a 21-6 record, will meet Murray State 25-9 in the semifinal feature at 8:30 p.m. tonight. Murray State dumped Whitworth College of Spokane, Wash., 61-50, but failed to stop the losers' fall. Ralph Polman who poured in 41 points.

Meeting in the semi-final opener at 9 o'clock will be the undefeated Southwest Texas State Bobcats, who have won 29 successive games, and the surprising Springfield Mo. State Bears.

Southwest Texas beat off a spectacular rally of Lawrence Tech of Detroit in the closing minutes to win 63-57 in the quarterfinals. Southwest Texas made an impressive showing in eliminating Morningstar College of Sioux City, Ia., 57-74.

Portland put on a typical Harlem Globetrotter exhibition in the last five minutes after it had the game won from a badly flustered Hamline team.

The fans roared as Andy Anderson, 6-foot 4-inch Negro star, performed all of the Goose Tatum tricks and Million Harvest McGillvery and Jim Winters entered into the clowning.

A different reaction from that of the fans came from Joe Hutten, coach of 1931 champion Hamline. Hutten commented:

"It was a new experience for me in intercollegiate sports. I felt that it was completely uncalled for. It's the first time I've ever seen it done outside of the professional Harlem Globetrotters."

"Portland played a great game and our kids played poorly. I could see no reason for them (Portland) humiliating a beaten team. Had Portland boosted the score to 100 points while playing basketball that would have been okay with us."

"I felt for a moment that I should have instructed my team to sit down on the court and cooperate in the act, even maybe let them sit on the bench and watch the show. But that wouldn't have been in keeping with good sportsmanship in intercollegiate athletics."

"My team was embarrassed. My boys have always given their best and I am not ashamed of them."

Coach James Torsion could not be reached for comment.

Sugar Ray Wins by Decision

San Francisco, March 14 (AP) — Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson successfully started his series of monthly title fights by outpointing Carl (Bobo) Olson last night.

The top dancing master of the 160-pound division had to travel at top speed to score a 15-round unanimous decision over his younger rival.

He next defends against Rocky Graziano in Chicago April 16 and against Paddy Young in New York May 16. "If I still have the title," Robinson, obviously tired after exchanging punches with the rugged, 23-year-old Honolulu-born fighter, said he finished in good condition.

Proceeds went to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund. Robinson contributed his purse.

Derby Probables Race Today

Hot Springs, March 14 (AP) — A five and a half furlong dash that may provide some material for the $10,000 Arkansas Derby featured today's program at Oaklawn Park.

Fifteen three-year-olds were entered, headed by Lawrence H. Thompson's SmartJax, Mrs. M. C. Eckert's Den-Cal, and Mrs. Ernest Demark's entries of Oil Countess and Sky Tiger.

Others entered were Black Bannam Thistle War, Star Wish, Eternal Temp, Fire Chief, Wolfcamp, Pusanmote, Rolling Time, Ogmatle, Hopedale and Seventh Sun.

Eighteen four-year-olds and up were entered in the secondary feature, the $4,000 El Dorado Purse.

Jockey Melvin Dubon took Joe Graves to the outside in the stretch, and the colt of Oaklawn's record for six furlongs put on a burst of speed to win the Moody Hotel Purse yesterday. Sun Tan Gal was second, and Ballydam third. The winner paid $6.

What a tragic figure this man makes! But he never intended to make this picture. The first mile of this road did not look like this. But a great teacher in the long ago warned him and us that we must choose the path on which we enter. There is one way that looks hard at the first but it leads to life, and those who find it are few. So many are attracted to the other way that is easy at first, but it leads to destruction, and those who enter it are many.

How necessary that we older folk shall guide wisely the young feet! Shall we go to heaven as the goal of my living? Look at my feet this very moment. Which way are they pointing? "Heaven is being on the way to heaven." Are many people are journeying there together now. Will my "last mile" be one of pathetic regrets and of sorrowful steps? Shall I leave grief and sorrow in the hearts of those who love me? Now is the time to answer that question. For "Despair is being on the way to despair." Which way did our feet turn yesterday? What is the goal we have set before us this day? Your Church Can Help You.

The devil will not destroy us, if we had not taken the first. The last mile of hatred and malice will not come to us if we do not allow unkindness and jealousy and envy to creep along with us through the first miles. The end of the way will not be vulgar and vicious unless we have forsaken the path of decency and of integrity further back. Every one of us is choosing this day the road we shall take. "But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" and do His will. May this be our resolve today.

YOU IN THE CHURCH

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions. Stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we see Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you." form a combination for good. So a regular CHURCH. GOD and a daily BIBLE READER.
